Accommodations are commonly categorized in five ways: presentation, response, setting, and timing and scheduling: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Presentation Accommodations —Allow students to access information in ways that do not require them to visually read standard print. These alternate modes of access are auditory, multi-sensory, tactile, and visual. o Response Accommodations —Allow students to complete activities, assignments, and assessments in different ways or to solve or organize problems using some type of assistive device or organizer. o Setting Accommodations —Change the location in which a test or assignment is given or the conditions of the assessment setting. o Timing and Scheduling Accommodations —Increase the allowable length of time to complete an assessment or assignment and perhaps change the way the time is organized. o Linguistic Accommodations— Allow English language learners (ELLs) to access academic construct measured by reducing the linguistic load of an assessment. The accommodation is based on an ELL's limited English language proficiency, which is different than an accommodation based on a student's disability or a cognitive need.

3g: Are there adequate accommodations permitted for this assessment? Provide an explanation of your response. The assessment doesn't provide any specific accommodations, but there is a differentiated rubric. The teacher could easily incorporate some: extra time, adjusting task, scheduling accommodations. 4c. To what degree do the results from this assessment (scores and student work analysis) foster meaningful dialogue about learning expectations and outcomes with students and parents? Provide an explanation of your response: Rubrics are explicit and will give a clear idea about students area of strengths and weakness, but it provides little guidance for the research which will make difficult to evaluate the researching skills. 4d. To what extent do you believe the assessment can clearly communicate expectations for academic excellence (e.g., creativity, transference to other content areas or 21st Century skills) to students? Based on the content evaluated by the task or the set of items reviewed, to what extent do you think teachers can use the results (scores and student work analysis) to understand what competency on standard/s look like? Provide an explanation of your response: The score on the rubric will only show how students presentational mode communication skills measure up. But, the presentation's true quality depends upon students research skills.	High=3; Moderate=2; Low or None=1
Competency on Standards Rating	2
4f: Based on the content evaluated by the task or the set of items reviewed, to what extent do you think teachers can identify what purpose the assessment serves (e.g. diagnostic, report card grades, adjusting instruction, etc.)? Provide an explanation of your response: Could be used for any of these purposes depending on the goals of the class and at what point the teacher assigns it.	High=3; Moderate=2; Low or None=1
